Satisfy the conditions of this offer

To satisfy the conditions of this offer, you must:

You must provide the following documents on completion of your degree via CSSD (http://www.chsi.com.cn/en/) or appoint one of the University's Authorised Representatives (Find an overseas representative (https://study.unimelb.edu.au/how-to-apply/find-an-overseas-representative)) to verify these documents for you.

- Online Verification Report of HigherEducation Qualification Certificate
- Online Verification Report of Higher Education Degree Certificate
- Verification Report of China Higher Education Student's Academic Transcript

Provide evidence of successful completion of your current program with a minimum of 84 overall.

Click the link to find out how to provide this evidence. Once you have met the conditions set out above, the University will send you an unconditional offer letter, which will include instructions on how to accept your offer.

It is also important to note that if you undertake any further study between now and accepting your offer you must declare it because your offer will need to be reassessed based on the additional study.

If you do not declare the further study and it is subsequently discovered via any means, including an advanced standing application, your application will be reassessed based on that study which could result in your offer being withdrawn and enrolment cancelled.

Advanced standing

| Type | Outcome | Points | Code | Subject Full Title | Notes |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| General | Granted | 50.00 | MC-SOFTENG | Master of Software Engineering | |

The cost and duration of your course will be reduced accordingly.

Important information

The commencement date above refers to the start of classes. New students should plan to participate in orientation activities before classes begin. Essential information will be provided at these sessions and attendance may be compulsory. Further details about the orientation activities of your faculty will be available towards the beginning of semester.

This is an offer for the Master of Software Engineering (MC-SOFTENG). You have been awarded 50 points of advanced standing. This reduces the course length to 2.5 years dependent on subject availability. You are eligible for advanced standing towards the following subjects: SWEN20003 Object Oriented Software Development, COMP20003 Algorithms and Data Structures, INFO20003 Database Systems, Group A Elective 12.5pts.

This advanced standing will be loaded to your study plan once you have accepted your offer.

Requests for further credit will not be assessed unless there has been a major change to your transcript. We encourage you to course plan by visiting the following link for your course structure: https://study.unimelb.edu.au/find/courses/graduate/master-of-software-engineering/what-will-i-study/. Further assistance is available via Stop 1: https://students.unimelb.edu.au/your-course/manage-your-course/planning-your-course-and-subjects.

Students are requested to complete the Diagnostic English Language Assessment (DELA) being held at multiple times during orientation week. The results of the DELA will be used to help the Faculty of Engineering and Information Technology better understand the support needs of our students and will allow us to give preferential access to resources to students in need. Students who have already completed the DELA in this calendar year are not asked to sit it again. Registration opens approximately 2 weeks before the start of semester. More information can be found here: https://students.unimelb.edu.au/academic-skills/english-language-development/english-language-development-DELA.There will be orientation sessions at the Faculty of Engineering and Information Technology in the week prior to commencement of classes. Closer to the commencement of your course further information will be sent to you and will be available from the website at: https://eng.unimelb.edu.au/students/coursework/study-resources/orientation.

Places for this course are limited. To secure your enrolment you are required to accept your offer by the offer lapse date stated in this offer letter. You must have formally accepted your offer by this date, or your place in the program will be offered to another applicant. No extensions of the offer lapse date will be permitted. Even though you are currently studying your final semester, formal acceptance of this conditional offer including payment of your tuition fee deposit may be possible through the Conditional Confirmation of Enrolment (CCOE) process if you are prepared to appoint an Authorised Education Agent to support your application. If you would like to investigate this option, see further details at: https://study.unimelb.edu.au/how-to-apply/conditional-confirmation-of-enrolment. If you do not wish to pursue this option, you are welcome to re-apply for a future intake when you can provide a full transcript of results and evidence of course completion with your application.

Due to the high level of demand for this program, please be aware that there may be few or no places available by the time the conditions of the offer are satisfied and/or the unconditional offer is accepted. Please note that this offer will remain valid only as long as there are places available in this program.

While you can register your intention to accept or decline this offer through the student portal or the application portal, please be aware that places may be full by the time you submit your final required documents, and we may not be able to issue an unconditional offer. If you need to start your studies later than originally planned, you may be eligible to defer the commencement of your offered course for up to one year. Please refer to the deferral page for eligibility details specific to you and the course you have been offered.
